Litigation Support Services

Dr. Mark L. Frigo and Associates

We are committed to provide the highest quality litigation support services. Accordingly, we accept only a limited number of engagements that are presented to us. Dr. Frigo has provided litigation support services and testimony in depositions and trial proceedings in cases involving economic damages and valuation for more than 25 years.

Whether in litigation or other dispute-based situations, law firms and their clients may require financial modeling and economic analysis to make informed decisions. We provide economic analysis in instances where facts are disputed and answers may be buried in complex collections of transactional data. With years of experience in litigation support and forensic services, we provide solutions to complex problems in the corporate litigation and dispute arenas.

We help clients in this area by:

- Providing an initial assessment of the financial merits of a potential claim or defense;
- Preparing and evaluating claims for loss of profits and other economic damages;
- Preparing an 'expert report' for use in the dispute;
- Helping clients to prepare responses to experts acting for other parties; and
- Providing expert witness testimony.

We provide economic analysis and expert witness services in areas of antitrust and contract damages, business valuation and lost earnings.
